

Word Study for --- STAKES

A close-up photograph of a rose bush. In the center, a vibrant pink rose is in full bloom, surrounded by several green rose buds that are just beginning to open. The leaves are a deep green, and the background is softly blurred, showing more of the foliage. The lighting is bright, highlighting the textures of the petals and leaves.

Isaiah 33:20 Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down; not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.

A close-up photograph of a single, vibrant red rose in full bloom. The rose is the central focus, with its many layers of petals creating a complex, spiral pattern. The petals have a rich, deep red color with some lighter, almost white, variegation on the outer edges. The rose is surrounded by lush green leaves, some of which show signs of aging or damage, with yellowish-brown spots visible on the lower right leaf. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, suggesting a garden setting. Overlaid on the image is a white, serif text that reads: "Isaiah 54:02 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes;". The text is arranged in five lines, centered horizontally and partially overlapping the rose and the background foliage.

Isaiah 54:02 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations:
spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes;
