

A close-up photograph of a flowering plant, likely a Mimulus, with vibrant red and yellow blossoms. The flowers are covered in small, clear water droplets, suggesting they have been recently watered or are in a humid environment. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, providing a natural and serene setting for the text.

Acts 16:27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.
